IMPORTANT LAND DECISION

Supreme Court of the United States—No 100—December Term, 1867

Benjamin Stark, Plaintiff in Error vs. Addison M Starr and Lewis M Starr

In error to the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon

Mr Justice Field delivered the opinion of the Court

This a suit in equity to quiet the title of the plaintiff to certain parcels of land situated in the city of Portland in the State of Oregon. It is founded upon a statute of that State which provides that "any person in possession of real property may maintain a suit in equity against another who claims an estate or interest therein adverse to him, for the purpose of determining such claim estate, or interest" This statute confers a jurisdiction beyond that ordinarily exercised by courts of equity to afford relief in the quieting of title and possession of real property. By the ordinary jurisdiction of those courts a suit would not lie for that purpose, unless the possession of the plaintiff had been previously disturbed by legal proceedings on the part of the defendant, and the right of the plaintiff had been sustained by ressive judgments in his favor. (Shepley vs Rangely, Davies' Rep, 242, Devonsher vs Newenham, 2 Sch and Lefroy, 208, Curtis vs Sutter, 15 California, 257)

The equity asserted in such cases had its origin in the prolonged litigation which the action of ejectment permitted That action being founded upon a fictitious demise between fictitious parties a recovery therein constituted no bar to a second similar action, or to any number of similar actions for the same premises With slight changes in the fictions a new action might be instituted and conducted as though no previous action had ever been commenced Thus the party in possession though successful in every case, might be harrassed if not ruined by the continued litigation To prevent such litigation, after one or more trials, and to secure peace to the party in possession courts of equity interposed upon proper application and terminated the controversy.

By the statute in question it is unnecessary in order to obtain this interposition of equity for the party in possession to delay his suit until his possession has been disturbed by legal proceedings, and judgment in those proceedings has passed in his favor It is sufficient that a party out of possession claims an estate or interest in the property adverse to him He can then at once commence his suit, and require the nature and character of such adverse estate or interest to be set forth and subjected to judicial investigation and determination, and that the right of possession as between him and the claimant shall be forever quieted.

We do not, however, understand that the mere naked possession of the plaintiff is sufficient to authorize him to institute the suit, and require an exhibition of the estate of the adverse claimant though the language of the statute is that "any person in possession, by himself or his tenant, may maintain" the suit His possession must be accompanied with a claim of right, that is must be founded upon title, legal or equitable, and such claim or title must be exhibited by the proofs and, perhaps, in the pleadings also, before the adverse claimant can be required to produce the evidence upon which he rests his claim of an adverse estate or interest

In this case the plaintiff asserts title to the premises in dispute under a patent of the United States, bearing date on the seventh day of December, 1860, purporting to be issued to the corporate authorities of the city of Portland, under the town site act of Congress of May 23d, 1844, entitled "an act for the relief of the citizens of towns upon the lands of the United States under certain circumstances"—(5 Stat, 657) and the defendant claims title to the premises under a patent of the United States, bearing date on the eighth Day of December, 1860, purporting to be issued to him under the donation act of September 27th, 1850, entitled "an act to create the office of Surveyor General of the public lands of Oregon, and to provide for the survey and to make donations to the settlers of the said public lands"—(9 Stat, 496),

By the fourth section of this donation act a grant was made to every white settler or occupant of public land in Oregon above the age of eighteen years—who was a citizen of the United States, or had made a declaration according to law of his intention to become a citizen, or should make such declaration on or before the first day of December, 1851, and who was at the time a resident of the Territory, or might become a resident on or before the first of December, 1850, and who should reside upon and cultivate the land for four consecutive years, and otherwise conform to the provisions of the act—of three hundred and twenty acres of land, if a single man, or if a married man, or if he should become married within a year from the first of said December, then six hundred and forty acres, one half to himself and the other half to his wife, to be held by her in her own right, the donation in all cases to embrace the land actually occupied and cultivated by the settler.

By the sixth section the settler was required, within three months after the survey of the land was made to notify the surveyor general of the United States the tract claimed by him under the act By the seventh section any person claiming a donation right was required, within twelve months after the survey was made, or where the survey was made before the settlement, then within that period after the settlement commenced, "to prove to the satisfaction of the surveyor general," or of such other officer as might be appointed by law for that purpose, the commencement of the settlement and cultivation required by the act, and after the expiration of four years from the date of such settlement, to prove in like manner, by two disinterested witnesses, the continued residence and cultivation required by the fourth section And the act declared that upon such proof being made the surveyor general, or other officer appointed by law for that purpose should issue certificates, under such rules and regulations as might be prescribed by the commissioner of the general land office, setting forth the facts and specifying the land to which the parties were entitled, and that the surveyor general should return the proof thus taken to the office of the commissioner of the general land office and if the commissioner should find no valid objection thereto, patents should issue for the land according to the certificates, upon their surrender

In pursuance of those provisions, and the regulations made by the general land office to carry the act into effect, the defendant, in May, 1852 within three months after the survey of the land had been made, gave to the surveyor general notice of the tract claimed by him, and within twelve months after the survey proved to the satisfaction of the surveyor general, that the settlement and cultivation had been commenced on the first of September 18[illegible], proved by two disinterested witnesses the fact of his continued residence upon and cultivation of the same for four consecutive years which had then expired

On the completion of this latter proof, on the tenth of September, 1853, the surveyor general issued the required certificate, reciting therein the claim of a donation right made by Stark to a certain described tract of land, that proof had been made to his satisfaction that the settlement of Stark was commenced on the first of September 1849, four years previous to the date thereof, and that the fact of his continued residence and cultivation since that period had been established by two disinterested witnesses, and he forwarded the certificate to the commissioner of the general land office accompanied by the proof of the facts recited, in order that a patent might issue to the claimant for the tract described, if he found no valid objections thereto. No objection was found by him except such as arose from the supposed application to the tract in question of the town site act of May 23d, 1844, which we shall presently examine The evidence was considered ample and the certificate satisfactory, and on the 8th of December, 1860, a patent was issued thereon to the defendant

At the outset, however, the commissioner objected to the issue of this patent upon the ground that the land was brought under the operation of the town site act by the organic law of August 14 1848 establishing the territorial government of Oregon, and was not subject to disposition under the donation act of 1850 And whilst the claim of Stark for a patent was pending before him, the corporate authorities of the city of Portland made an entry of the lands within the city limits to the extent of three hundred and seven acres and forty nine hundredths of an acre which included the premises in controversy, in trust for the several use and benefit of the occupants thereof, and presented to the commissioner a certificate of the register of the land office in Oregon, of their having made full payment for the same The commissioner accordingly issued a patent to them bearing date on the seventh December, 1860 reserving however, from its operation any valid claims which might exist in virtue of the several donations to Stark and others

The patent to Stark bearing date on the following day contains a reservation of a similar character in favor of the city of Portland It grants the land subject to such rights as may exist in virtue of the entry by the city

It was the intention of the commissioner of the General Land Office and it was so directed by him that the two patents should bear even date and be issued simultaneously The omission to comply with his direction in this particular is however, immaterial for if the town site act was not in force in Oregon before the right of Stark to a patent of his donation claim became perfected the reservation of the patent was inoperative and void That right became perfected when the certificate of the Surveyor General and accompanying proofs were received by the Commissioner of the General Land Office and he found no valid objection to them That is to say, if the donation act of 1850 was applicable to the lands, his right to a patent became perfect when the certificate of the Surveyor and accompanying proof showed, in the judgment of the Commissioner, a compliance with its requirements That they were satisfactory to his judgment in this respect follows from the subsequent issue by him of the patent His objection to the patent, as we have already said, arose, not from any defect in the certificate or proof but from an opinion that the lands were subject to the provisions of the town site act of 1844 That he was mistaken in this opinion we are entirely satisfied. The act of 1844 is only a part of the general land system of the United States, and is supplementary to the general pre-emption act of September, 1841 The act of 1841 confers the right of pre emption upon individual settlers reserving, however, from entry by them all lands selected as town sites, the act of 1844 allows the entry of lands thus selected to be made if the town is incorporated, by the corporate authorities, and if not incorporated, by the judges of the county in which the town is situated the entry to be made in trust for the several use and benefit of the occupants Both acts limit the right of entry to surveyed lands Neither individual nor city could claim this right with respect to any lands until they had been surveyed by the officers of the government Every person, says the act of 1841 who shall make a settlement on the public lands "which have been, or shall have been surveyed prior thereto," shall be authorized to enter any number of acres, not exceeding one hundred and sixty, upon paying the minimum price

"Whenever any portion of the surveyed public lands" reads the act of 1844, "has been or shall be settled upon or occupied as a town site, and therefore not subject to entry under the existing pre emption laws, it shall be lawful in case such town shall be incorporated, for the corporate authorities, and if not incorporated, for the judges of the county in which such town may be situated to enter at the proper land office and at the minimum price, the land so settled and occupied," &c

It is not pretended that any public surveys had been extended over Oregon previous to the act of 1850, or were ever authorized by the Government There were, therefore, no surveyed lands of which any entry could be made either by any individual or by any corporate authorities The laws of Congress relating to pre emption by individuals or entries by municipal authorities had, therefore, no application to the condition of things in Oregon at that time The act of August 14th, 1848, organizing the territory of Oregon, which declared that all laws of the United States should be in force in the territory, "so far as the same, or any provision thereof, may be applicable," did not extend over the country any portion either of the act of 1841 or of the act of 1844

"It is well known," says Mr Justice Deady of the United States District Court of Oregon, in considering this subject, in Lownsdale vs. the City of Portland, "that at the time of the organization of Oregon territory an anomalous state of things existed here The country was extensively settled, and the people were living under an independent government, established by themselves They were a community, in the full sense of the word, engaged in agriculture, trade commerce and the mechanic arts, had built towns, opened and improved farms, established highways passed revenue laws and collected taxes, made war and concluded peace As a necessity of their condition, and the corner stone of their government and social fabric, they had established a 'land law' regulating the possession and occupation of the soil among themselves That all this was well known to Congress at the time of the passage of the act of 1848, would be highly probable from its historic importance, and is certain to have been so from the language of the act itself (See secs 14 and 17 of the act of 1848)

"The leading feature of the land law of the provisional government was that which provided that every male inhabitant of the country, over a certain age, should hold and possess 640 acres of land The uses that the land might be put to were immaterial The occupant might cultivate or pasture it, or if he possessed a good site, and had the thrift and enterprise, he might build a town upon it In the disposition of the public lands this state of things called for peculiar legislation different in toto from that required in an unsettled country Under these circumstances is it to be presumed that the act of 1844—an obscure and special provision of the then existing land system of the United States—was extended over this country, and the general provisions of the same contained in the pre-emption act of 1841 left behind? Nothing can be more unreasonable It would tax the ingenuity of man to find a provision in the land system of the United States, as it stood in 1848, less applicable to the condition of the country, or that would have worked greater hardship, confusion, and injustice than the act of 1844"—(1 Oregon Reports, 391)

The act of Congress of September 28th, 1850, "to provide for extending the laws and the judicial system of the United States to the State of California," declared "that all the laws of the United States, not locally inapplicable," should have the same force and effect within that State as elsewhere in the United States, yet it was never supposed that this provision had the effect of extending over that State any portion of the land system of the United States in advance of the public surveys upon which that system rested, and without which, as the law then stood, that system was inoperative But on the contrary, on the third of March 1853, Congress, by special act provided for the survey of the public lands in that State and made them so far as individual pre emption was concerned, with some exceptions subject to the act of 1841, and when occupied as towns or villages, except when located on or near mineral lands subject to the provisions of the act of 1844 This special legislation with the exception of a few particulars, would have been unnecessary had those laws been extended over the State by force of the act of September 28th 1850 So too the acts organizing the Territories of New Mexico, Kansas and Nebraska contained similar provisions and extended the laws of the United States over them, so far as they were not locally inapplicable yet subsequent special legislation was deemed necessary to extend any portion of the public land system over them

The donation act of 1850 is of itself evidence that Congress did not then consider the acts of 1841 or 1844 applicable to Oregon That law established no system of pre emption, nor recognized any such system as having been previously in existence in the Territory It substantially gave to every settler upon certain conditions the land which he occupied, excepting only mineral and saline lands and such parcels as might be reserved by the President for forts, arsenals, and other public uses The law, as well observes Mr Justice Deady, in the able opinion from which we have already cited "was a complete system within itself and admirably adapted to the condition of the people and the country, as it found them" and was "a practical recognition and confirmation of the land law of the provisional government"

A similar view of the subject was taken by the Supreme Court of the State, after full examination, in the case of Marlin vs. [illegible] (1 Oregon, [illegible]) That Court concluded a well considered opinion by stating that the people of the State had universally acted upon the belief that the act of 1844 was not in force there and that the effect of a contrary ruling would be to unsettle rights and strike at [illegible] the property of nearly every town in Oregon

We are clear that the town site act of 1844 was not extended to Oregon until the 17th of July, 1854 and even then that it only operated to exclude lands occupied as town sites or settled upon for purposes of business or trade from a donation claim which had not been previously [illegible]. Before the passage of this act the claim of the defendant, Stark, had been surveyed, and the required proof of his settlement and continued occupation and residence made, and such steps had been taken as to perfect his right to a patent. The lands embraced by his claim had then ceased to be the subject of purchase from the United States by any person, natural or artificial. The right to a patent once vested is treated by the government, when dealing with the public lands, as equivalent to a patent issued. When, in fact, the patent does issue it relates back to the inception of the right of the patentee, so far as it may be necessary, to cut off intervening claimants.

It follows from the views expressed, that the plaintiff derived no title or estate in the premises in dispute by force of the patent to the corporate authorities of the city of Portland. Although there was at the commencement of this suit no legislation by the State of Oregon for the execution of the trust, to which the act of 1844 contemplates that municipal authorities in receiving a patent shall be subjected, we have considered the case as though the trust had been executed, and the plaintiff, as one of the beneficiaries, had become invested with all the estate and right the authorities could possibly impart. Those authorities not having received any title or estate in the premises in controversy, could, of course, impart none to the plaintiff. His position is, therefore, reduced to that of a mere possessor without title. Such possession is entirely insufficient to justify the interposition of equity for the [illegible] of the defendant's title, even under the very liberal act of Oregon. The plaintiff must first show in himself some right, legal or equitable, in the premises before he can call in question the validity of the title of the defendant.

This case differs very materially from that of Garland vs Winn, (20 How., 6), or that of Lindsay vs. Hawes, (2 Black, 554), and other cases to which the counsel of the plaintiff has referred. In Garland vs Wynn there had been a conflict between two claimants of a right of pre emption to the same land under different statutes. The register and receiver of the local land office decided in favor of the assignor of Garland, and gave him a patent certificate The commissioner of the general land office approved of the decision, and issued the patent to Garland. Wynn, the other claimant, whose entry was the oldest, and had been once allowed, thereupon filed his bill in equity asserting his prior right to the land, and his equitable title to the patent. The supreme court of Arkansas sustained the bill, and ordered the patentee to execute a conveyance of the land to the complainant, and on appeal this court affirmed the decision

In Lindsay vs Hawes the ancestor of the complainant had obtained a pre-emption right to the land in dispute, and received a patent [illegible] for the same Some years afterwards the defendant, Hawes, claimed a like pre emption right to the land and received a similar certificate, upon which a patent was issued to him. The suit was brought by the heirs of the first pre-emptor to compel a conveyance of the legal title acquired by the patent from the patentee and parties claiming under him with notice. This court held that the first pre emptor had acquired the better right to the land, and was therefore entitled to a conveyance of the legal title.

These are only applications of the well established doctrine that where one party has acquired the legal title to property to which another has the better right, a court of equity will convert him into a trustee of the true owner, and compel him to convey the legal title. The same observation will apply to the other cases cited by counsel. They have no pertinency to the case at bar, for here no prior or better right to the land in dispute is shown in the plaintiff.

The view we have taken has rendered it unnecessary to look into the evidence embodied in the record respecting the original settlement and residence of the defendant, or to consider how far it impeaches the proof presented by him to the Surveyor General in support of his donation claim.

The decree of the Supreme Court of Oregon must be reversed, and that court instructed to enter a decree directing the Circuit Court to dismiss the suit and it is so ordered

SIXTH INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION
OF THE
Mechanics' Institute,
SAN FRANCISCO.
THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MECHANICS' Institute hereby give notice that the Sixth Industrial Exhibition of that Association will be held some time in August next, in a building to be erected for the purpose in Union Square in this city. Every preparation will be made to accommodate exhibitors and visitors with a view to make the Exhibition profitable, instructive and pleasant to all parties.
During the three years which have intervened since the holding of the last Exhibition in this city the manufacturing, mechanical, scientific and [illegible] arts have made unprecedented progress on this coast, and it is believed that the proposed Exhibition will exceed any other in value that has ever been held on the shores of the Pacific
The plan of building to be erected, which has been adopted by the Board of Directors, it is believed will prove to be the best adapted, both for display and convenience of the public, of any building ever erected in the State The building will be perfectly water-tight, being covered with a shingle roof, so that no damage from the elements can be anticipated.
All parties who are interested in any of the branches of Manufactures, Mechanics, or the Arts and Sciences, are invited to exhibit in the proposed Exhibition, and to share in the publicity and consequent profit which always attends such enterprises. Suitable [illegible] will be offered and the specific date of opening the Exhibition will be published at some future time.
By order of the Board of Directors.

The Principles they Oppose.

Those who oppose the Union party and the measures it advocates oppose these principles, viz:

1. That all persons are entitled to receive the equal protection of the laws, and that none should be deprived of life liberty or property without due process of law

2 That the classes excluded from the ballot box should not be counted in the basis of representation The Southern States contain over four millions of negroes These were not permitted to vote but were represented in Congress to the extent of two-thirds Thus one white man in South Carolina counted as much as three white men in a Northern State The "Democracy" would thus put Southern negroes ahead of the white men of the North

3. That certain persons who in taking up arms against this country violated the oath they had taken to support the Constitution of the United States, shall not be trusted with official positions The Oregon "Democracy" decide that Jeff Davis, R E Lee, J B Breckinridge and all others of this class shall be eligible to office on an exact equality with the soldiers who fought the battles of the Union

4. That the debt contracted in carrying on the war and in providing for bounties and pensions shall not be questioned The Democratic" party is not willing to give this guarantee.

5. That the rebel debt shall never be paid This also is a guarantee which that party will not give except in such a manner as will leave a chance to revoke it

These are some of the principles which those who pronounce against the Union party [illegible]. And these are the issues with which we are to go to the people in the election of 1868

The Cry About Usurpation

The [illegible] of nearly all the 'Democratic' charges against the Union party is that [illegible] that party had put down the rebellion they refused to restore the States In other words, they [illegible] conditions of restoration. This is the ground of all the charges of destruction of the Constitution and of liberty, and of setting up a despotism. We propose a short method of trying this charge Andrew Johnson set aside the governments of the [illegible] States and ordered the [illegible] of new ones, subject to his arbitrary [illegible]. The Oregon "Democracy" in [illegible] platform of two years ago approved it In that platform they put in two resolutions endorsing his reconstruction policy At the close of the rebellion and for a year thereafter, no party [illegible] that the rebel State governments [illegible] had used their power to levy war should [illegible] in control of the States. Recognizing this [illegible], the "Democratic" party was fully committed to the position that the rebel State governments had no right to stand in the Union as they were, but that they were subject to conditions of [illegible], including a revision of their Constitutions, and the constitutional ratification of [illegible] And during this reconstruction they were provided with Military Governors of United States appointment. Thus the "Democratic" party fully subscribed to the right of the Government to prescribe conditions of restoration. The Union party believes the same. The [illegible], therefore, between the two is that the former want one set of terms which will leave the control of the restored [illegible] in the hands of the rebels and al[illegible] to make use of the colored population of the [illegible], as a means of largely increasing [illegible] in Congress and in the election of President; while the latter hold that the terms [illegible] be such as to [illegible] reconstruction in loyal control and fairly adjust this question of representation. No Democrat [illegible] any reputation for ability will say that the reconstruction policy which President Johnson attempted to establish was constitutional while that of Congress is [illegible]. The two parties started with the [illegible] that the rebel State governments were to be wiped out and new ones constructed All the [illegible] of usurpation in the matter of reconstruction which are urged against Congress [illegible] in an equal degree to Andrew Johnson, whose policy the "Democratic" party did [illegible] two years ago. The whole of this vexed question is now in a fair way to be speedily settled, as [illegible] six of the ten "outside" States will be [illegible] within a month and the others will follow before the close of the year.

The Unionist states Gov. Woods is compelled to stop public speaking for the present, on account of the inflammation of his lungs It is doubtful whether he will be able during the remainder of the campaign more than to speak at Dallas on the 30th. While the party will regret his inability to do more, they will award him all honor for the signal service he has performed.

The Albany Democrat, says the Roseburg paper acts on the presumption that Democrats of Linn ar all blockheads. It has, in large type several expressions scattered all through the paper, informing its readers that the "election will be on the first day of June next," and naming out the particular Democrats that they are required to vote for.

Says the Yreka Journal The travel to and from Oregon has commenced and emigrant teams pass our office daily The Oregonians are probably leaving because their country is too wet and the Californians from below are going North on account of their sections being too dry Anything for contentment

Beriah whiningly says that he is "53 years of age, of slight frame and delicate health Perhaps he has made the discovery that under the circumstances prudence would dictate a little more care on his part in making calumnious attacks on the character of honorable men

The Union meeting at Lafayette last Saturday was an immense success By far the largest crowd ever assembled in Yamhill was in attendance Governor Woods delivered one of his best speeches The enthusiasm was great Our friends are certain of carrying the county

Axtell Democratic Congressman from San Francisco, who was lately renominated, says he is "opposed to paying the five-twenties in greenbacks, because greenbacks are not money"

Leaves from the History of 1861

Probably the attitude of the Democratic party of Oregon in 1861 could not be better understood than by a careful perusal of the address which the Democratic Governor of this State published to the people very soon after the commencement of the rebellion We have before made some allusions to this address and have been informed that a good many people would be gratified to see the entire document again in print. It is somewhat long and we can present the material points without printing the whole We therefore give several paragraphs entire From a perusal of these the reader can see exactly what the Democracy which now claims to be so patriotic was a few years ago when the nation was struggling for its existence with armed treason and needed the support of every citizen The address is dated Pleasant Hill May 28 1861 and begins in this style

OREGONIANS In the present distracted condition of our common country it becomes us all remain calm and cool and to consult reason in our every act that might by any chance create divisions among ourselves or add to the present difficulties in the country It has been my hope that the good sense and discretion of the people would in a great measure exempt Oregon from many of the evils growing out of the troubles now threatening the perpetuity of our once united country, and I do still hope and believe that the people have no desire to beget an unnatural feeling of hostility among themselves Coming as we do from every section of the Union and with our social friendships annealed by the remembrance of common dangers and privations incident to the settlement of the country, it would certainly be impolitic in us however keenly we may sympathise with other sections to subject ourselves to the calamities which inflict them, and deprive ourselves madly of the blessings of peace We involuntarily shudder at these domestic disorders even when they occur in States having nothing to fear from a foreign foe or the outbreaks of a savage enemy in their midst and on their borders then in God's name, let us avoid them

This plea for peace was preliminary to a bitter attack upon the Union meetings which at that time were being held in different parts of the State These meetings were held to denounce the rebellion and encourage the prosecution of the war This patriotic Democratic Governor continued

Public assemblages for the purpose of giving expression to patriotic sentiments, and for giving and taking counsel as to the best means for restoring the country to its former integrity peace and prosperity are at all times laudable and should be encouraged by every lover of his country but we should not lose sight of the fact that those which are held for the purpose of manufacturing partisan or treasonable and where all who do not profess that fulfill with the same peculiar accent are denounced as traitors and disunionists These are not Union meetings, but are creating discord directly in our midst

After a labored argument to prove that it was not contrary to the duties of patriotism to oppose the suppression of the rebellion after some kingly censures upon his Oregon subjects who were "crying havoc and blood" after a distinct intimation that no troops could be had from Oregon to make war upon the South after declaring that the rebels had "some provocation" for their action and that he "had no doubt they felt justified before God and man in their undertaking" this loyal Governor proceeded as follows

Though you may whip the revolutionists, you cannot conquer them Does any one suppose that the seceded States can be held in the Union without the employment of a large standing army, stationed in their midst and on their borders to awe them into subjection? And, though you force them to remain in union with people whom they have reasons to bitterly hate, can you force them to their duty to the Government? Will not repeated revolts, and the employment of force for their reduction, tend to widen the breach, and finally result in the destruction of our present form of Government? We should recollect that the Southern people are of the same race and in no way inferior to ourselves, that they are wanting in none of the elements of manhood possessed by their Northern brothers, and that they believe that their honor and interests—nay, their very existence is dependent upon the issue of the present undertaking

I will be asked, what would I do—would I yield up forts, arsenals, and other property in the seceded States, and tamely submit to a dismemberment of our honored and cherished Government? This is a question easily asked but, since things have gone as far as they have, the answer is neither ready nor certain The Government never can bring this issue to a happy termination It is at present in the hands of a Northern, if it is not the instrument of a sectional party, in which the South sees, or fancies it sees, nothing but deadly enemies

Thus it will be seen by his own words that the "Democratic" Governor of Oregon "had no answer ready" to the question whether we should allow the country to be dismembered But in the next paragraph he nevertheless answered the question by virtually declaring that the South ought to be "let alone"

I would say to the President, whose policy is war, and whose Cabinet is a unit with him on that question Defend the federal capital, and every other place or property belonging to the General Government which is not situated in a seceded State Protect and defend every State and place still loyal to the Union, against any attempt on the part of the seceders and if need be, employ the whole resources of the country to accomplish it But beware of making war for the ultimate or immediate extinction of slavery

The piety of this address was on a par with its patriotism Take the following as evidence of the quality of both

As there is a God who takes cognizance of the actions of men, so I believe that this Government has been an object of His special providence. But if we have become so steeped in sin that the Divine protection is about to be withdrawn from us and we left to choose between the evils that now beset us, let us not multiply our offenses against both God and man by inflicting upon the country a war between brothers kindred and friends—a war which shall not discriminate between the guilty and the innocent, and in which the mother and the infant must alike share the fate of the man and master. And for what? To remove the ill feeling now existing between the two sections? No, for we know it will only add to the intensity of that feeling Is it to compel the South into her duty to the Union? No, for all know that depends upon their voluntary act Then is it to maintain the Constitution of the United States? Certainly not, for of all the methods devised for its destruction, war is the most certain Then in God's name what good is this war to bring to the country? None positively none but it will be looked upon by the people of the South as the fruit of the unconquerable hatred the North bears toward them—prosecuted under a cloak of patriotism to carry out the principles of a sectional party whose very existence depends upon its opposition to the social system of the South

Fellow countrymen be not deceived by those who tell you that civil war is fidelity to the Union and that compromise and peace are treason and disunion As there is a God I do not believe that this Government can be sustained by a war of sections

This was Democracy in 1861 and during the entire period of the rebellion Yet Rev Joseph Smith tells the people that his party did not oppose the prosecution of the war but aided with all their might to suppress the rebellion and sustain the Government And his followers say that the reverend Joseph is an honorable man

A writer in the Roseburg Ensign has a pungent article headed "The people of Southern Oregon sold out of a railroad by J S Smith" Smith would sell anybody out, or falsify to any extent about any matter, if he thought he could make a vote by it The canvass proves that no other man so hypocritical and untruthful ever asked for the suffrages of the people of Oregon

The Copperhead platform of this State avoids any positive utterance of principles The claws of the old Democratic beast have been carefully pared down and gloved But its footprints may be clearly traced Indistinct as they are, there is no mistaking them. No disguise can effectually secure the beast against identification.

An Important Mission

Wm L Adams, of Yamhill county starts to the Eastern States this morning going overland via Boise Mr Adams visits his old home after a residence of more than twenty years in Oregon and expects to remain in the Atlantic States probably more than one year While there he will take occasion to make known to Eastern people the boundless resources of Oregon and the wants interests and advantages of the State His long residence in the State perfect familiarity with all its advantages and resources with his ability to make the same known as a ready and forcible writer and speaker renders his visit of the utmost importance to our whole State No man could be sent East who is better qualified to make the advantages of his State known than Mr Adams and as he now goes of his own accord our people ought to see to it that he is properly aided with means, outside of his own private purse, to travel from point to point and thus render the most effective service in the promotion of the interests of the public

In this connection, we publish a letter a copy of which has been furnished by Mr Gaston, although not written for publication

PORTLAND, O, May 20 1868

Dear Bro, I do not feel like leaving Portland without saying a few words to you regarding the prospects of the Oregon Central Railroad, a matter about which I have up to this time been able to obtain but little satisfactory information and I do not think the people in Yamhill and other counties along the route south are generally much better posted than I have been I find upon examination that the question that has been raised about the validity of the papers amounts to nothing The papers I am satisfied are good I have also seen a letter from O H Browning Secretary of the Interior, directed to Mr Gaston President of the Company, and just received by him, stating that no other company has filed any papers in his office claiming the legal franchise that this road claims to be entitled to under the law I find the prospects of the Company very flattering and indicating certain success The President of the Company, Mr Gaston, Capt Ainsworth, one of the Directors, and all other parties interested here, are not despondent as has been represented but are sanguine and certain of success Mr Gaston went out upon the road with me to day, and I was not only surprised, but astonished at what I saw Instead of some half dozen men making mere scratches along, as I had heard, I found to day over fifty men hard at work on the grade which has now reached a point about three miles from Portland over the most difficult portion of the route Mr Hart the superintendent, told me that another mile would take him over all the real difficulty in ascending the Portland Mountain Next week an additional force will be put on, which cannot now be employed for want of carts Mr Hart is an experienced, energetic man who I see understands working men to advantage The fact is, this road is going through, and you all ought to take hold of it with confidence I am satisfied that in from three to five years our railroad system will cause the State to leap upon a higher plane of wealth and prosperity with the jump of a giant We want this road complete, a road leading across the continent from the East to the Columbia river via Salt Lake, and then we shall also have what we most want a heavy immigration to build up an empire on the Columbia river and its tributaries I have made up my mind, health permitting, to spend several months in trying to post the people in the New England and other States as to the inducements this State is now holding out to capitalists mechanics farmers and everybody else, to come and settle here I believe that I can do the State more good this way than in any other, and I intend to try the experiment The prospects of Oregon I regard as brighter now than ever before and the developments of the next five years will show you whether I am a false or a true prophet Fraternally yours,

To S C ADAMS Esq

In 1864 a man named John Wells was living in Johnson county, Kentucky One of his neighbors named Meeks was a rebel and had been away with the rebel army, but had returned and established a store on the border of the county where he was supplying the rebels and guerrillas with provisions, clothing and ammunition Four Union soldiers who had escaped from the rebels at Saltville came to Wells' house, and forced him to go with them as a guide to Meeks' store as they said to obtain ammunitions Wells went with them unarmed and under duress The soldiers very naturally and properly gutted the store A short time afterwards Wells removed to Ohio After the close of the war Meeks brought an action against him accusing him of having feloniously taken away his goods The case was tried and Wells was acquitted without hesitation But this did not satisfy the Kentucky rebels and a short time ago they seized Wells and carried him over to that State to be tried by a rebel jury Of course he will be sent to the penitentiary perhaps for life This is the way the rebels would "let bygones be bygones" If they had power they would wreak their vengeance to the utmost upon the loyal people of the country and have full payment for their slaves and their losses by the war if as their journals were wont to say they had "to wring it out of the Yankees' heart

A correspondent of the Corvallis Gazette writing from Yaquina Bay complains that Oregon has but one lighthouse on her coast notwithstanding she has eight or ten harbors of sufficient capacity to admit ordinary coasters The single exception is at Cape Arago which has been in operation only a few months—while there are ten lighthouses on the coast of California and two more are about to be built There was formerly one at the Umpqua but it washed down several years ago and has never been rebuilt He wants Congress to make provision for a light house at Yaquina Bay and for as many more as the wants of our Commerce will justify all of which we hope to see accomplished

A grand neice of Benedict Arnold is said to be now employed as a lady clerk in one of the Executive Departments at Washington

THE DOG QUESTION.—Since the City Marshal began lately to enforce the dog law rigidly there has been considerable discussion as to the justice and propriety of the ordinance imposing a tax of $5 per year, and not a little complaint about the manner in which dogs are caught and killed. There is, of course, great diversity of opinion concerning the dog question in general. Some are for abolishing the tax altogether, others favor the policy of making it still more onerous upon dog owners while still others are in favor of making the tax discriminative, as, for instance, to make the tax on rat-killers merely nominal and to draw it strong on the manifestly useless dogs. The best suggestion, however, which we have heard, is that the city ought not to undertake to raise revenue upon dogs, but confine its legislation to the promotion of the general safety, and let everybody keep as many dogs as they please, provided that if any dog be found in the street or at large without a muzzle sufficient to prevent the animal from biting, it shall be subject to [illegible]. Something of this kind is manifestly needed. Simply putting a collar on a ferocious or vicious dog, to show that his owner has paid tax, protects nobody from the animal's teeth. Every one knows that there are hundreds of dogs in the city from which danger may be always apprehended, and especially to persons who may be out late at night. Only yesterday, we saw two large dogs both with collars, if we are not mistaken—run out into the street and attack an old man who was quietly passing. Such dogs and all dogs should be muzzled when allowed to run at large, whether taxed heavily or lightly, or not taxed at all. If we must have a thousand dogs to the square mile, let us have a thousand muzzles to go with them—for the general safety.

INDIAN WAR CLAIMS.—At the time the late rebellion broke out, there were pending in the Departments at Washington, a great many claims for services, property furnished or property destroyed during the Indian war of 1855-6, held by citizens of Oregon and Washington Territory. These were at once crowded out of consideration by the more pressing business of the war, and remain unsettled. With a view to taking them up again for settlement, Hon. Alvan Flanders, delegate from Washington Territory, with the concurrence of the Oregon [illegible] and Senators, has taken the initiatory steps in Congress to have an act passed authorizing the prompt payment of the claims. In the event of a refusal on the part of Congress to direct the payment of the several claims incidental to and growing out of the Indian war in 1855 and 1856, as the claims now stand, he will make an effort to have the consent and authorization from Congress of the appointment of a Special Commission, whose duty it shall be to come here, investigate, audit and report upon all claims due and remaining unpaid, on account of the war; and upon making their report to Congress their awards shall be binding upon the Government, and payment shall be made in accordance therewith at the earliest practicable period.

PASSENGERS FOR PORTLAND.—The following is the list of passengers per steamship John L. Stephens, which sailed from San Francisco on Tuesday, for Portland. Rev G O Burnett and family, Mrs M Burns, Miss A Burmingham, Capt Gillis, U S A, Gen Crook, U S A, Mrs A B White and child, Mrs Trobiner and child, J C Baldwin, F W Baldwin, S D Adair, Capt J S Haskell, F McYhan, T R Dee[illegible], Jas Franklin, R N McMaster, Mrs T R Brooks and child, C Borchard, T H Everding, Jas F Clark, H C S[illegible], A W Major, Dr Belt and wife, L M Doorn and wife, Joe Lord, J A Strowbridge and family, Dr H A Boardman and family, Miss L Wallace, Miss J Morrison, J L Starkey, K Sanx, W O'Connor, J F Whitney, C H Whitney, G Farquhar, R Crow, F L Tileston, E P Wright, Mrs J F [illegible] and son, Mrs M Bonner and child, Miss T Cast[illegible], A Jewett, D Rogers, P P Castleman, F T Coucher, B Sylvester, S W Smith and 56 in steerage.

FROM ASTORIA.—A gentleman who arrived from Astoria by the Geo. S. Wright, yesterday morning, furnishes us the following items: On Tuesday afternoon a severe [illegible] blew out in and up to the time of leaving Astoria, was still prevailing.....The steamship Ajax went to sea at about 11 A. M. Tuesday, and the Wright came in shortly after—both crossing the bar before the wind got very high......Capt Flavel commenced, this week, to drive piles to serve as a foundation for a large hotel building......The steamer Grant has got regularly to work in her trade between Astoria, Cape Disappointment and intermediate points. She will make a trip, carrying the mails from Astoria to the forts below upon the arrival of each mail steamer from Portland. On Tuesday she made a trip to Oysterville upon her return, reporting that the [illegible] at that place was fired up for the first time, on that day. Everything is lovely in that quarter.

AID FOR THE UNFORTUNATE.—The first response to the call for aid to Wm Atkins, the unfortunate man who [illegible] last winter, came yesterday to this office. A lady, whom we do not know, entered the business office, and leaving a letter upon the counter, went away. Upon opening the envelope, it was found to contain $5, with the following explanation as to its use: "The enclosed [illegible] for William Atkins, the person who appeals for aid thro' this morning's OREGONIAN." We cannot tell who the donor is, but we feel sure that she has a true, practical christian heart, and that her goodness and charity will lead her, even in this life, through the rewards which goodness and charity must ever have, along many pleasant paths.

CROP [illegible].—Farmers whom we meet, from various sections of the country, agree in representing that all crop prospects, with a single exception, are unusually [illegible]. The wheat sown last fall is almost every where rather light. To compensate for this, however, a large area of ground has been sown to winter, and the [illegible] varieties of spring, wheat and to oats. All spring [illegible] are looking fine and healthy. The late showery [illegible] has done much good.

[illegible] OLD COINS.—Dr. Ellis, yesterday, showed us two coins of much greater age than either of those recently mentioned. One of them bears date, 1677 and the other, [illegible] the times of William and Mary and Charles II, of [illegible]. These are perhaps the oldest coins in any collection in this State, and we doubt if they could be bought for twenty times their weight in gold. Though so old, they have been but little worn.

[illegible] EXPLAINED.—A circus performance and a [illegible] meeting were advertised to come off on the [illegible] at Salem. Neither was crowded to suffocation. The Unionist explains: "There was not a very large turn-out at the circus last night, in consequence of the [illegible] meeting; and there was nobody at all at the [illegible] meeting, in consequence of the circus."

[illegible] PRODUCTS.—Arrived yesterday per steamer [illegible], 240 qr sks flour, 198 sks oats, 51 boxes apples, [illegible]. Per Wenat, 268 bags wheat, 90 sks [illegible], 85 gunnies bacon and 16 tins and 6 kegs lard. Per Mary, 622 bags wheat, 448 qr sks flour and one pkge [illegible]. Per Hunger, Tuesday, 24 tons hay, equal to 168 [illegible].

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.—Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer and real estate agent, sold yesterday, real estate as follows: Lot 8 in block No. 41, Couch's Addition, $750, lot 4 in block No. 41, in Couch's Addition, $475; lot 1 in block No. 221, $400; lot 2 in block 221, $350; lot 3 in block No. 221, $415; lot 4 in block No. 221, $350.

PAPER RAGS.—The steamer Geo. S. Wright brought over a large quantity of paper material from Victoria, for the paper mill at Oregon City. A large part of the invoice [illegible] of linen hammocks, formerly in use in the British Navy—material which is capable of being worked into the finest qualities of paper.

TURN VEREIN PICNIC.—The Turn Verein Society has [illegible] the steamers Alert and Senator for the occasion of their picnic on the 24th. The former will ply between the city and the grounds while the Senator will make one trip from Oregon City, returning in the evening.

[illegible] FOR THE RAINIER.—Through the agency of [illegible] Petty, Esq., who has established an agency for [illegible] line of such business, the bark Rainier has been supplied with an entire crew of seamen and will [illegible] for San Francisco.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.—We learn that there are about fifty representatives in attendance upon the Grand Lodge at Oregon City, and that the session will probably be protracted till Friday. The Grand officers for the ensuing year will be elected to-day.

THE ALMATIA.—Capt. Richardson informs us that his bark, the Almatia will drop down to Springville to-morrow, [illegible] to take in a cargo of wheat, wool, etc. She will also take some staves from the factory at St. [illegible]

THE RACE TO-DAY.—The race to-day between the horse Jack Miner and Bybee's sorrel mare Kate George, for $200 a side, will take place at one o'clock P. M at the Union race course.

[illegible] The Geo. S. Wright will sail for Victoria, at [illegible] M. Friday, the 22d inst. Those wishing to make [illegible] should get their freight ready to-day or early [illegible]

COUNCIL.—There was no business transacted by the Board of Common Council last evening for the want of a quorum.

[illegible]—Mr Tarbill, purser of the Geo. S. Wright, has our thanks for late files of Victoria papers.

LAST OF THE SEASON.—Received per steamer Ajax, a large and elegant invoice of Ladies' Latest Styles Silk Cloaks, which are offered regardless of San Francisco cost. [illegible] should avail themselves of this splendid opportunity to purchase a fashionable cloak at very low figures. Also, a fine lot of Straw Goods on same terms. Call and see them at Mrs. Levy's, No. 67 First street.

TO [illegible] IN WANT OF PHOTOGRAPHS, we would say that now is a first-rate time to visit Buchtel's Gallery, where the [illegible] and finest styles may be had—J. H. Mont[illegible], [illegible] Editor.

Letter from an Irish-American Soldier.

CAPE DISAPPOINTMENT, W. T.,
May 17, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I have been a casual reader of your valuable paper for some years back, and consider it one of the best national papers in the country.

Having lived in Northern Idaho both as a miner and packer from the first year of the gold excitement there (1861), until I came down here somewhat over two years ago, I find some news of interest in relation to that section in every number I chance to meet with.

I have a right to feel some interest in the welfare of Oregon, too, having come across the plains to this country in 1849 with the Mounted Rifle Regiment as a citizen employee, and under the immediate superintendence of my friend John Kelly, Esq., Register of the Land Office, Roseburg, Oregon. And this interest is heightened by the fact of its being the residence of some countrymen of mine of whom I feel proud. I allude to the Union Irishmen as represented in Convention in Portland lately, according to the OREGONIAN.

To the men who maintained the Union in the late infernal attempt at its destruction are the Irish people, the world over, indebted for occupying to day, a position of hope instead of despair, for as the existence of this Union in its fullest entirety and strength is indispensable to the attainment of their rights by the Irish people, so would the destruction of that strength be the destruction of their best hopes as well as that of the best hopes of the friends of true liberty everywhere. Interest, honor, duty and consistency, then, call on the Irishmen of these United States to aid the Union sentiment of this country by every honorable means, for it is the only legitimate means at present within their reach of effectually counteracting the evil effects of the insidious policy of their hereditary persecutors, (the British Government), the robber of their rights. Any one who, under any pretence, endeavors to neutralize the power and strength of this country, is the enemy of the Irish race.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,
DENTIST.
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.
I am now making amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3, 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold, it not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.
N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.
N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

A THRILLING INCIDENT.
In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls, in Burmah, is well told in the "Baptist Messenger," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Budhist high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how, while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels, which none but the high priest dare touch, and to even overturn and sit on one of their gods to rest; all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "God medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer. London Times.
Rev. J. E. Clough, Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes: "We esteem your Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."
Rev. I. D. Colburn, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes: "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." ml4dawlm

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases, it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 631 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of these who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, placing upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

So Far—So Far Away.

So far away — So far away
Thy stars are not the stars I see
With me to-night, with thee to-day
And day and night are one to me,
So far—so far away

I faint beneath these wandering airs
Whose wings arose of the earth grief
I snatch at straws the wind sweeps by
Touched they the land that blooms for thee
So far—so far away

The forms that [illegible] me [illegible] breathe
Like [illegible] like visions flee
[illegible] the [illegible]
My soul has crossed the [illegible] thee
So far—so far away

Earth's keeping shall we close [illegible]
The heavens have lit their lights for me
The voice of joy breathes [illegible] sound
And hope swoons dead on yonder sea
So far—so far away

NASBY AND SERGEANT BATES IN PETTUSVILLE (VIRGINIA)

WASHINGTON (D C) April 20 1868

Happenin to be in Washington at the time Sergeant Bates that noblest R man uv the Northern men who took up arms agin the sunny South wuz to arrive, it okkurd to me that it wuld be a payin investment of I shood go out to Pettusville wich is a beautiful village, containing one dry goods store and 13 flood groceries situated about sixty miles from here and witness the recepshun that shood be given him. Wat transpired thrilled me, in fact, I never felt such a thrill uv joy in my life ez I did wen I saw this battle scared vet eran heave in sight. He came proudly bearin aloft the flag wich, when the South had her rites and owned her niggers body and soul in fee simple wuz rely and truly the Flag uv the Free but wich now that, alas! there aint a slave under its shadder, and all are permitted to do ez they please, is the symbol uv the most oppressive and grindin tyranny wich the world ever witnist.

But, nevertheless, the devoshun to the old flag wich a site uv it stirred up in the breasts uv the people of Pettusvills, rely surprised me. Never shel I forgit the site that met my eyes. The Ser geant wuz met three miles out uv town by a persesshun wich accompanied him in the following order

Band, playin "Bonny Bloo Flag"

Ditashment of the Pettusville Avengers, made up uv soljers wich formerly served in the Thirteenth Virginia wich wuz employed for fourteen months a guardin Andersonville

Detachment uv the Pettusville Cadets made up uv sons of Confedrit soljers who wuz killed in the servis, with black banners onto wich wuz inscribed, "We will avenge our slain sires

Quartermaster in late C S A	Sergeant Bates proudly carrying the American flag	Commissary in late C S A

Four survivors uv the late onpleasantnis, carryin each a battle flag capchered from Wisconsin regiments.

Band, playin "Dixie" melojusly

Citizens on foot and horseback and in carts

On strikin the corporation the Mayor (Captain Badger, uv Forest's cavalry) and the Town Clerk (late of the lamented John Morgan's command) app[illegible] and the procesbun stopped while the formalities wuz gone through with. The Mayor [illegible] the Sergeant in these words

"Sergeant Bates, Sir Understandin, ez we do that you chivalrously made a wager (wich is a bet) with a Wisconsin ablishnist that you cood walk from Vixburg to Washington carryin the Am[illegible] flag unfurled without being insulted nor mobbd, and havin received testimony from leadin Democrats uv Wisconsin, wich is entirely satisfactory to us, that you are not in no sense nor never wuz at any time, in sympathy with the Ablishen, or ez they falsely style themselves, the Republican party, we extend to you the hospitalities uv Pettusville. And ez there are reporters present, [illegible] remark, sir, that your experience has [illegible] how falsely we hev bin judged by the [illegible] voters uv the Northern States. You hev bin met on every hand with nuthin but kindness. Southern hospitality uv the broadest kind hez bin extended to you. You hev hed a chaw off [illegible] plug—you hev hed your suck out uv every [illegible] [illegible] nose shows that sense you entered the Sunny South you hev not bin allowed to taste water, wich is our idee uv hospitable treatment. Why, my dear sir, does this go to show? Wat does this prove? If Charles Sumner, for instance or [illegible] Kelley had bin so presumpshus, or any other Republican, ez to attempt sich a feat, the native Southern hart wood hev biled over and he wood hev bin tored to pieces. Wat does it prove? It proves that 'taint the flag we object to so much ez it is the men who hev bin in the habit [illegible]. In the hands of a constitooshenel Dimecrat its the same old flag it allus wuz. In sich hands, its rustle soundz in our ears like the crack uv the nigger whip, and the site thereof is soothin. For when the flag wuz in them hands we hunted niggers under its folds in the streets uv Boston. Under that flag we shot Lovejoy in Alton, and tuk Baley's press in the Ohio at Cincinnati. Under the shadder of that blessed flag we sold niggers at auction in Washington, and that flag, that symbol uv Freedom, wood hev floated over the deck uv every slave ship wich sailed from Africa but for the unjust and suicidle laws wich [illegible] the philanthropists in the biznis to sale [illegible] peasants. In your hands, and the hands uv sich as you, the flag is to us the old flag [illegible] and is sacred to us becos under it we could do all these things. That's why we love it and that's why we tolerate you with it. Had it [illegible] such we never wood hev raised our hands [illegible] sich ez Polk and Fillmore and [illegible] had the controll uv it we wuz satisfied with it and [illegible] every stripe and every star [illegible] that surmounted it and the staff wich [illegible] it—for to us that flag meant sumthin. It [illegible] free trade in niggers—it meant [illegible] ascendency—it meant the right to buy niggers, sell niggers—import niggers—export niggers, dog niggers—hunt niggers. So long as the flag was sich we loved it. But when the North [illegible] our control uv it and put it in the [illegible] of A. Linkin, a Ablishunist, it wuz our flag no more. Then we felt it must come [illegible] its mission was ended, and to us it was [illegible] that flag. I raised my hand [illegible] Beauregard, by a Dimecrat [illegible] at—a Dimecrat who stuck [illegible] of nigger skality. It is [illegible] the old flag, and we rever [illegible], when you, a carryin this [illegible] the nashun's grandeur, kin walk all over the South, where all is peace and so much [illegible] for the flag, why do they keep an army [illegible] us? Why—"

At this [illegible] occurred. A shot wuz heard, and [illegible] to see wat it wuz. They [illegible] a [illegible] uv nig[illegible] the main street carrying [illegible] soljer who had just [illegible] the late on[illegible] and they march'd with a flag at their head, the excited and insulted populace bed [illegible] out. Two uv em wuz shot and the [illegible] with em wuz left for dead. This over, they returned and the Mayor went on, "Sergeant [illegible] on, and with you the flag, to Pettusville."

Sergeant Bates replied briefly. Since he come into the South he had been treated kindly. In the rural districts, once or twice, where the people in their delightful onsofisticashun don't read noospapers, and consekently didn't jist know the object uv his carryin the flag he was went for rather ruff, but a few words convinced em that he was sound, and it didn't incommode him. The niggers in the rural destricks also rather overwhelmed him with attenshuns, but he had no difficulty in shakin em off. Sticking a copy uv the Noo York World in their faces did it. He cood say he wuz delighted with his experience.

The ceremony bein over, the Mayor mounted his hoss, and one band playin Dixie and the tother the Bonnie Bloo Flag, the persesshun moved to the principal citizens, incloodin the officers of the Kuklux Klan.

The [illegible] thus displayed for the flag is rather techin than otherwise. I notis a jore in the servis uv the late Confederacy, who kist it in the fervor of their devoshun. One man who had [illegible] four years in Forrest's command, wept, his eyes lit onto it, and he remarkt that it was the happiest [illegible] of his life, and a lady, the wife uv an ex kurnel of Lee's whose buzzum wuz decorated with a pin made from a Federal soljer's skull, kist the corner uv it, pertesting that it wuz dearer to her than life.

I left Pettusville entirely satisfied. Our stump speakers hev now suthin to go on. The flag hez gone thro the South, its folds hev kist the breeze in every Suthern State, and its carryer hasn't bin shot on the spot onst. We kin now appeal to the people. Hed a Ablishnist carried it he would hev bin shot. Can't they see in this the path to peace? Can't they see how much more it wood harmonize things of they would let such men carry it all the time? Can't they see that whereas there will be a continyood hart burnin in the South of sich a man as Grant hez charge of the nashnel emblem, that all will be lovely and sweet if it is given into the hands uv Pendleton? Sich is the lesson I extract from Sergeant Bates

PETROLEUM V NASBY P M
(Wich is Postmaster)

A correspondent asks if one can wink at a lady in the street? The thing is possible, but the chances are that it wouldn't be well. It is putting the eyes to a purpose that is apt to run them into mourning.

SIR WALTER SCOTT'S FIRST LOVE—For some time after he had begun to associate exclusively with the members of the Club and the Speculative Society Scott continued to be as careless not to say slovenly in his attire as he used to be when a schoolboy and a writer's apprentice. All at once his habits changed in this respect, and he became a well dressed young man a squire as his [illegible] pant as pronounced him of dance. He had fallen in love with a young lady whom he had once entered at the church door and conveyed to her own home sheltered from the rain by his umbrella. His family and hers were not on any terms of intimacy. Mr Scott happened indeed to be her father's lawyer but the man of business held a pretty probably did not desire to be reckoned among the familiars of his client. Indeed so morally sensitive on that head was the Writer that he [illegible] noted how matters were tending with the young people than he considered himself bound to put the lady's father on his guard. The warning was well received and [illegible] made light of and the acquaintance went on more especially as young Scott made his way as he soon afterward did, into the set in which the young lady's brother was a member. Hence it came to pass that he met the young lady frequently not in Edinburgh only but in her own and other country houses and that she being addicted to poetry and romances received him kindly and frankly as often as he came.

This sort of intimacy was kept up for years throughout the whole interval indeed between 1792 and 1796 and Scott regarding it as he regarded all things else through the medium of his own imagination flattered himself that his passion was reciprocated. No word escaped him however to the lady herself either in conversation or writing indicative of the state of his own feelings. He resembled in this respect the most bashful of the bashful lovers described in his novels. He told his secret to many of his friends among others Miss Cranstoun afterward Countess of Purgstall, but to the object of his devotion he said nothing. It is worthy of remark however that neither the passion itself, nor the secrecy with which it was nourished exercised the slightest untoward influence over his character. As first love is apt to do with such as him it deepened in him the poetic temperament but it made him neither less industrious nor less manly. * * *

Thus far the tide of fortune may be said to have rolled with a steady current in Scott's favor. He was in fair practice at the bar, considering his age and standing. The advocates had appointed him one of their librarians. He was rapidly establishing a good name as a man of genius and great research. He was about to experience his first sorrow and it was a bitter one. Encouraged in part by the success of his translation in part of the partial assurances of his friend Miss Cranstoun, he made up his mind to tell his tale of love and finding himself under the same roof with the object of his affections, he besought her to give him her heart and was rejected. She had no heart to give. Another had it in his keeping, and he was one of Walter's dearest friends. It would be ungenerous, if it were possible, to depict his feelings on that occasion. Thus much, however, we are bound to say, that he overmastered them with a power of will which is marvelous and carving in his soul a grief which never died he never allowed it no not even for a day to stand between him and the manly exercise of his faculties. He quitted the house made his way into Perthshire and threw himself with apparently increased zeal into the researches which were to him at once business and recreation while strange to say only one short poem by his hand survives to tell that such an incident ever befel him. There is however no doubt that there are traces of her in the heroines of the Lay, Rokeby and Red Gauntlet.—Lond n Quarterly Review

The Chicago Times asserts "Not even the Democracy of Ohio is more heartily or unanimously for Pendleton than the Democracy of Illinois. And the sentiment is spontaneous."

Last year Great Britain paid from eight ten million dollars for imported eggs.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

To the Public.

FROM this date the undersigned retires from the Life Insurance business. This step is taken in view of the fact that while the companies are all on a sound financial basis and investments of this kind proper prudent and beneficial in relieving the burthens and sorrows of widowhood and orphanage—while I view Life Insurance as a proof of high moral sociality in all communities where practised—the competition for business is carried on by agents of some companies in the spirit of fair and honest competition, some of them being ignorant of the working of the company they represent as well as of the business in general and therefore unable to advance the merits of their company by honest facts resort to slander and personal abuse of those more successful in procuring business than themselves.

The time was when Agents of rival Companies met together in friendship as a Board of Life Underwriters and consulted upon matters of mutual interest and advantage. But that day is past on the Pacific Coast. It has given place to a cut throat style of competition forcing those who have pursued a different course to give up the business, to adopt the new mode or retire from the business. I chose the latter.

Thankful for a generous success in the business I those contemplating Life Insurance I heartily recommend them to try the Manhattan of New York. It is a Company managed with unrivalled economy and the General Agents Messrs Landers & Co as well as the Agent for Oregon O P Ferry Esq are gentlemen worthy of the highest confidence.

Trusting those who have been in the habit of slandering and vilifying her may find comfort in nursing their venom I predict that they will realize the effect of the course they pursue in the general distrust of their companies and agents. Such cannot fail to be the effect of the course followed, and such I predict will be the result.

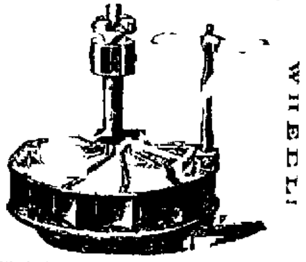
LEFFEL'S AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

WATER WHEEL!



THESE WHEELS UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world have been fully tested on this coast many being in use at this time driving all kinds of machinery. Saw Mills, Flour Mills Quartz Mills Woolen Factories &c &c

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern. I hereby give notice that the so-called Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel is a direct infringement and copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making using constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing bluff I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States

WASHINGTON D C April 17 1868

MR A MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours
DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker user buyer or seller. Every infringement whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted

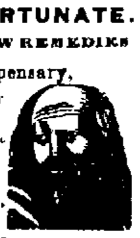
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret diseases or from virus absorbed in the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and fatigued faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they are [illegible] until death sets the scene. Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these terrible self destroying maladies—see that they are cured for an [illegible] before it be too late. Send them immediately to Dr Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to beware of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus diplomas or certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and because too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoe makers newspaper carriers Intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patients letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC

TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS AND USES THREE FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE

The old high priced unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been PLAYED OUT by a few working trial made by Mr H Kelly at his saw mill and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of both wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature

MR H W SHIPLEY Sir In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel I have to say that I have used one over [illegible] and three Leffel wheels—10 13 and 15 inch diameters. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 13 inch Leffell wheel though using [illegible] it worked the machinery [illegible] using 52 ft of water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffell. At your request I subsequently took your wheel [illegible] that it might be finished and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel but it gave no better power than yours while it used 62 cubic feet more water per minute. After some [illegible] I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance while running the circular saw in a log which squared 15 inches I added the planer with a 9 inch knife cutting from one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch depth without in the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gates one-eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffell with gates one third open. At half gate your wheel gives [illegible] the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel by from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N B Mr Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel being sick at the first and absent from the State at the second trial
